MEMORANDUM FOR: PRESIDENT, DEFENSE ACQUISITION UNIVERSITY

SUBJECT: Current Baseline Life Cycle Logistics Functional Community Competency Set

The current Life Cycle Logistics (LCL) functional community competency set (Attachment 1) was approved by the LCL Functional Integrated Product Team (FIPT) and implemented as the baseline Defense Acquisition Workforce career field competency set effective April 2012. As outlined in my March 8, 2013 memorandum (Attachment 2) to the President of the Defense Acquisition University, "the acquisition related competencies currently maintained by the Defense Acquisition University (DAU) are approved and reflect the knowledge and skills required to be successful as an AT&L workforce member."

These competencies form the basis for the LCL career field Defense Acquisition Workforce Improvement Act (DAWIA) certification training provided by DAU and have been integrated into DAU's Competency requirements Management System (CrMS) database. They build upon and replace Life Cycle Logistics competencies and sub-competencies contained in both the May 2008 Center for Naval Analysis (CNA) "Improving the Certification, Training, and Development of the AT&L Workforce Life Cycle Logistics Career Field: Competency Validation and Workforce Assessment" and the June 1, 2008 "DoD Logistics Human Capital Strategy (HCS): DoD Core Logistics Competencies and Proficiencies Booklet."

My points of contact are Ms. Lisa Smith, (703) 614-8339, Lisa.Smith@osd.mil and Mr. Jeff Frankston, (703) 697-5981, Jeff.Frankston@osd.mil.
